About us:

GM Agriculture (GMA) derives its name from its founder, Gamal Mostafa, as the business is truly the fruits of his labor. He has a mind for business and trading and a penchant for creating valuable partnerships. These values have contributed to his numerous achievements in the last 40 years in business.

GMA is a family-run business, with a mission to promote and preserve business connections with our clients by supplying them with products of the highest quality. The company has three fully operational divisions:

1. GMA Plantation:

“We grow the produce, we reap the harvest, we sort and pack the end product, and we deliver on our promise of premium quality products.”

Our assortment of premium fruits and vegetables offer a range of products that keep our local, regional, and international business partners resourcefully roofed all year long.

Our supply chain network across Egypt bolsters our ability to deliver a diverse assortment of produce. The network also helps us meet the increasing local and global demand for agricultural produce.

Our tried-and-true Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) distinctly outline the particular processes for each task on our farms. Our processes include landscape management, soil preparation, planting, manuring, irrigation, weeding, integrated pest management, crop management, harvesting, and post-harvest handling.

By evolving our production methods and post-harvest processes to meet top industry standards, we ensure our ability to deliver our products to our customers consistently and efficiently.

Our farms are GLOBAL G.A.P certified, GRASP compliant and verified by Sedex’s SMETA Ethical Audit.

This is a testament to our commitment to quality and our unwavering determination to maintain our social responsibility as a reliable global source for ethically produced crops.

2. GMA Animal Production & Livestock Trade:

GMA Animal Production division is one of the largest calves fattening specialist farms in Egypt that conforms with international trade terms. We import the best calf breeds from Europe (Charolais, Angus, Limousine, Brown Swiss, Simmental) and South America (Colombian Brahman, Zebu, Nelore, Boran) into our fattening farms.

Averaging 275kg in weight per head, the calves arrive into our farms where the following services are professionally administered as part of the onboarding process:

Health & Safety

All our processes observe the highest standards of health and safety for both our animals and workers. We strictly enforce the best health and ethical practices in rearing our calves, which greatly influences meat quality.

Our cattle receive the best treatment while in our care. Their happiness is our happiness, and eventually our customer’s happiness as well. The result is premium, tender, juicy meat, that is free of any antibiotic residue.

We are currently working on establishing our very own abattoir to maintain the efficiency of our operations and to guarantee that our quality standards are maintained throughout their life cycle.

Top-tier Veterinary Services

The new calves are quarantined once they land on the farms. A thorough diagnosis of foreign infectious diseases is done regularly while they are in quarantine. The check-up ensures our quality control is accurately fulfilled while meeting the international criteria for health and safety.

All our calves are ear-tagged with a unique number to accurately monitor their health. A status report on the bulls’ overall development cycle is recorded on a health status report on daily basis.

Nutrition

Our livestock is fed with quality fodder mixes to provide them with the essential nutrients needed for proper growth. A healthy diet for our livestock includes fiber, proteins, carbohydrates, minerals, and vitamins that provide the caloric needs of the growing calves. Their water troughs are always clean and flowing with desalinated water to complete their diet.

We nourish the cattle with a carefully designed blend of feed, created with the help of our in-house animal nutritionist and mixed on our farm to ensure accuracy. The cattle are routinely weighed throughout their stay on our farm to track their growth.

With the help of our veterinary team and our animal nutrition specialist, an independent veterinary consultant checks on the cattle regularly to ensure the efficiency of the process and the well-being of our calves.

3. Fibers & Proteins

A commercial brand with a purpose representing an online “Farm to Home” delivery platform of local, freshly produced, and made-to-order premium products.

Our menu:

The menu includes herbs, vegetables, fruits, beef, and olive oil. We also supply homemade products such as pickles and jam assortments.

Geographic coverage:

Currently, we are serving Alexandria, October 6th, and Cairo in Egypt.

Educational purpose:

Our goal with F&P is to educate the public about the food production process. Through our social media pages on Facebook and Instagram, we share information on the agricultural cycle of our produce. This includes our growth process, and posts containing facts about the use of pesticides, the health benefits of each fruit and vegetable, and crop history.

Our educational efforts with F&P extend beyond our online platform. We actively organize tours of the farm where visitors are given the chance to explore the farm. Activities on the farm include touring the fields/farmstead, petting the animals, and picking their vegetables and fruits. These events serve to involve our customers with our process and allow them to actively engage with the important aspects of farming.

Mission

We build our brand with quality products that are thoughtfully grown and harvested. Our mission is to nourish families by providing delicious food that makes eating healthfully effortless, anytime and anywhere.

Vision

We work towards being the finest local & regional agricultural trader who’s nourishing families and enriching lives every day.

A word from the Founder & Chairman

“When I reflect on my journey decades ago, I recognize how far we’ve come”

I’m grateful to all those that have played and continue to play an indispensable role in supporting our mission. Even when the path was not clear, determination and conviction from our passionate workforce made us reach our destination.

This growth has been possible mainly because of two factors: the integrity of our people and our continuous investment in developing our skill sets. This sense of preparedness embodies our learning culture that encompasses every corner of the organization. Over the years, I have realized that if there’s one thing that makes an organization ready for the future, it’s by making sure new skills are acquired regularly.

This also includes an approach borrowed from a game dear to me and millions worldwide – football. From matching skill sets to forming a formidable team, along with the strategic alignment of personal and professional goals with the vision of the company, this beautiful game illustrates the joy of winning against all odds.

Looking back at the journey of the young man four decades ago, there’s a deep sense of satisfaction. The path has been long and hard. But sheer determination, the strength of belief, and a passionate workforce made my long-cherished dream possible.

As GMA continues to expand and diversify, I am confident its success will continue to flourish far into the future. A solid foundation of long-standing values will elevate our standing to be more than we are today.

Gamal Mostafa, Founder & Chairman.
